

Wellsites Privacy Statement

Wellsites respects the privacy of the visitors of its websites.

This Privacy Statement is intended to inform our clients and visitors to our site, of our policies and practices regarding the collection, use and disclosure of any personal information submitted to us through our website. "Personal Information" is information like name, address, e-mail address, or telephone/mobile number, as well as other non-public information.

We pay close attention to how Personal Information about our visitors is used and shared, and we use Personal Information sensibly.

We act as a service provider to our clients and may process and store on behalf of our clients Personal Information that our clients collect under the privacy policy they have posted on their websites from the users of such websites. We do not own this Personal Information.

By submitting Personal Information through our websites, you agree to the terms of this Privacy Statement.

You expressly consent to the processing of your Personal Information according to this Privacy Statement. Personal Information may be processed by Wellsites or other Users in the country where it was collected as well as other countries.

We collect Personal Information that you submit to us voluntarily through our websites. The Personal Information we gather from you helps us learn about our clients and potential clients. We use this information to better tailor the features, performance and support of our solutions, products and services, and to contact you from time to time with information and offers about our products and services.

As you navigate our website, certain passive information may also be collected, including your Internet Protocol address, browser type, and operating system. We also use cookies and navigational data like Uniform Resource Locators (URL) to gather information regarding the date and time of your visit and the solutions and information for which you searched and viewed. This type of information is collected to make our solutions and services more useful to you.

We may receive Personal Information about you from other sources like telephone or telefax. We may add this information to the information we have already collected from you via our website in order to improve the solutions and services we provide.

In general, Personal Information you submit to us is used either to set up solutions or purchase website marketing services, respond to requests that you make, to process transactions, to facilitate your request for a quote from a third party service, such as Graphic Designer to design Logos and letterheads etc. We may also use your Personal Information to provide you with electronic newsletters or promotional e-mails as well as information and offers about our products and services.

We will not trade, rent, or share your Personal Information with third parties, we will not disclose any information that you ask us to keep confidential, and we will not disclose financial information unless you ask us to do so. Except as otherwise stated in this Privacy Statement. In order to build the solutions for you, we may engage third parties to assist us, and, in connection with such assistance, we may provide them with Personal Information that you have provided and that is necessary for them to assist us.

To make your website easier to find, we will disclose keywords about your business, your business name, general and specific description about your business, information about your location, and information about your products and services to search optimisation engines used by Google, Yahoo, MSN etc.

We also use third parties to maintain and store your Personal Information and to process any payment you make to us. Generally, these third parties are required not to use your Personal Information other than to provide the services requested by Wellsites.

We may disclose your Personal Information if we believe in good faith that such disclosure is necessary to: comply with relevant laws of the Land or to respond to subpoenas or warrants served on Web.com; or to protect and defend the rights or property of Wellsites or users of our websites or our clients' websites.

Our provision of a link to any other website or location is for your convenience and does not signify our endorsement of such other website or location or its contents. We have no control over, do not review, and cannot be responsible for these outside websites or their content. Please be aware that the terms of our Privacy Statement do not apply to these outside websites.

We use reasonable measures to maintain the security of your Personal Information. Even so, technical mistakes are possible. No company, including Wellsites, can fully eliminate security risks associated with Personal Information.

This Privacy Statement is subject to occasional revision, and if we make any substantial changes in the way we use your Personal Information, we will post an alert on this page. If you object to any such changes, you must cease using our website. Continued use of our website following notice of any such changes shall indicate your acknowledgment of such changes and agreement to be bound by the terms and conditions of such changes.

If you choose to visit Wellsites's website, your visit and any dispute over privacy is subject to this Privacy Notice, as governed by the laws Australia.
